

Call for Internships during May – July 2024

Participatory Research in Asia \(PRIA\), New Delhi, is inviting applications from interns seeking opportunities during this summer vacation to gain firsthand experience engaging with a Civil Society Organization and gaining insights into the development sector!

PRIA is offering young individuals from various avenues to engage in development projects and concerns, encompassing roles such as providing research assistance in our ongoing research, conducting impact assessments, compiling and sorting data, creating social media posts, content writing for websites and helping us at our Knowledge Resource Centre (mini library). We are seeking students pursuing undergraduate and postgraduate degrees, with academic backgrounds in fields such as Economics, Political Science, Sociology, Public Policy, Social Work, Development Management, Communication, Media Studies, English, Library Science, Law, Anthropology, or B.Tech.

Location: This is a full-time internship (5 days a week) based in Delhi, with occasional travel to field sites within Delhi/NCR.

This is an unpaid internship opportunity.

Perks: Certificate and letter of recommendation will be provided upon successful completion of the internship.

Duration: Minimum 8 weeks.

Interested students will have to fill the Internship Application Form available at <https://pria.org/engagewithus> and send it along with their CVs to hr@pria.org
